

Some call him a madman. Some call him a genius. Some call him...

SAADIN DASSUM

This rock and roller has come all the way from the Andes Mountains to explore what it means to be a romantic in the world of a nihilist. Dassum sings for the anxieties of a generation, such as climate change, mental health, and modern intimacy, all while attempting to seek for and inspire hope even in the darkest of times.

With the voice of a male Stevie Nicks, the Latin Rock mojo of Charly Garcia, and a digital touch of Daft Punk, one thing is for certain, Saadin Dassum is ready to drag you deep into the realm of Rock n' Roll.
